Godshall Receives National Re-Certification as a Women’s Business Enterprise

GREENVILLE, S.C. – Godshall Professional Recruiting and Staffing received national re-certification as a Women’s Business Enterprise by the Greater Women’s Business Council, a regional certifying partner of the Women’s Business Enterprise National Council (WBENC).

“As a female business owner, we are thrilled to receive this re-certification by the Greater Women’s Business Council,” said Julie Godshall Brown, president of Godshall Professional Recruiting and Staffing. “Having a diverse organization makes it easier for us to understand consumer needs and build trusting relationships. This national recognition means that female-owned businesses are introduced to a broader range of corporations and businesses.”

WBENC recognizes its members for their investment into the women business community through cause-related support benefitting women, mentoring, volunteerism and more. WBENC’s national standard of certification implemented by the Greater Women’s Business Council is a meticulous process that includes an in-depth review of the business and a site inspection. The certification process is designed to confirm the business is at least 51 percent owned, operated and controlled by a woman or women.

By including women-owned businesses among corporations and government agencies these businesses can demonstrate their commitment to fostering diversity and the continued development of their supplier/vendor diversity programs.

In 2012, 27 percent of women served as Chief Executives at their company, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics.
